

CORPORATE COMMUNICATION TO ALL OUR PARTNERS,

Dear friends,

For 45 years, BIOLABO Group has been expanding worldwide. My father, Pierre Charpentier, started this adventure with just four people and very limited resources. Today, the group invests 10% of its revenue in R&D and is confidently preparing for the future.

As a self-made entrepreneur, I have dedicated my entire career to the growth of this remarkable company, established in both France and Italy. On May 15, 2024, the Harvard Business School Club of France named me the National Laureate of the Self-Taught Victories.

I am very proud of this recognition and I share this trophy with all the employees and partners who contribute to this great success. Thank you for your trust.

Thank you all.

See you soon,

JEAN-FRANÇOIS CHARPENTIER
PRESIDENT DU GROUPE BIOLABO
